

Leave your Exchange Legacy for future generations

Jim and Kay Brown have named the National Exchange Club (NEC) Foundation as a beneficiary in their estate planning.

“We have been involved in Exchange since 1964 and with our national project; the prevention of child abuse, since its inception in 1979. We feel strongly that Exchange makes a difference in the lives of families and children. The difference our clubs are making in their local communities, made our decision to give back to Exchange, by remembering the NEC Foundation in our will, easy.”

Your legacy to support the NEC Foundation will make an impact through:

- Support for Exchange’s Child Abuse Prevention Centers throughout the United States, including scholarships for staff training.
- Scholarship dollars for Exchange’s Youth of the Year and A.C.E. of the Year recipients.
- Support Exchange’s Programs of Service.

When you include the NEC Foundation in your estate plans, you will be recognized as a member of the Heritage Society. Jim and Kay Brown are joined by other generous Exchangites who have included the NEC Foundation in their legacy planning. For more information, please call the NEC Foundation Development Office at 419.535.3232.
